AGAINST CONSOLIDATION.

The people of one of the school districts are very much in the higher atmosphere over the fact that their little school house will be closed by the consolidation movement. They have gone so far as to employ a lawyer to plead their cause, and have circulated a petition to the county school board to retain the school house in their midst. The petition is being signed by large numbers, and it is certain that something will happen soon in county school circles.

RUMOR OF A NEW DRUG STORE.

The druggists of this city are to add one more drug store to their number, if the rumors that are current prove true. It is claimed that the new establishment will have the latest equipment and fixtures, including a first-class soda fountain, and will be owned and operated by two of Maysville's prominent young druggists. The location of the new store has not been announced.

YOUNG FORGER HELD TO GRAND JURY.

Saturday afternoon Theodore Roosevelt Hook, of the county, was tried on the charge of forgery in Police Court, and after waiving trial was held over to the September term of the Mason Circuit Court by Judge Whitaker, who fixed bond at $500, in default of which he was placed in jail.

BIG SHIPMENT OF HORSES.

On Friday night there passed through Maysville on the C. & O. five train-loads of horses bound for the warring nations. Up to date there has passed through the C. & O. yards of Covington more than 80,000 mules, being shipped to eastern points.

DEATH OF HARRY PARKER.

Mr. Harry Parker, comedian, who played here at the Washington Opera House with the Parker Stock Company about four weeks ago, was found dead in bed at his hotel in Georgetown, Ky., on Saturday morning. He was well known in Maysville.

AUTO SMASHES INTO WALL.

Machine Skids On Wet Streets, and Collides With Stone Wall.

Sunday afternoon the auto belonging to Dr. T. J. Winder, of Reeterville, driven by his son Harold, skidded on the wet street in front of the residence of Mr. John Altmyer, on West Second street, and ran into the stone wall, completely disabling the machine. The occupants were uninjured, and a call for help was sent to the Central Garage.

Spencer Kimbrough, colored, answered the call and put on too much speed for Chief Mackey, who placed him under arrest, but as Spence promised to appear in Police Court today he was released. He towed the injured car up to Sutton street, where the wheels of the broken machine caught in the frog of the car tracks, resulting in further damage. After much trouble it was finally landed in the garage, where much needed repairing will be attended to.

WARD KIDS MAKE BIG HIT AT LEXINGTON.

Perry and Adeline Ward sang to packed houses Sunday at the Colonial Theater, Lexington. The kids impressed the people of Lexington so much that after the third show the house was packed to capacity, and a clamoring crowd that waited to see them on the outside delayed traffic. After the show they were offered a fat salary for a week's engagement, and their manager says that they will be booked on good time in the near future. This week they will play in Lexington, and go on the road the following week.

WORKMAN BURNED.

A workman by the name of McCormick was badly burned at the dam above this city Saturday morning. McCormick was placing some Babbit metal in a boxing of one of the cranes, when it splashed out, burning his face and shoulders badly. This is the fourth accident on the big works. A few days ago a foreigner was hit in the head by a shovel of the derrick and was badly hurt.

CUTTING SCRAPE NEAR DOVER.

Frank Brown Assaulted and Robbed On C. & O. Freight Train.

Saturday night the people of Dover were startled by the cries and shouts of a man who, upon investigation, was found to be badly cut about the head and body, and who claimed to have been robbed.

Frank Brown, the victim of the holdup, who is from Catlettsburg, was riding an eastbound C. & O. freight train and when about two miles west of Dover, was held up and assaulted by two unknown men, who were also riding the train.

The men demanded that Brown hand over his money and other possessions and upon his refusal, one of them held him while the other cut him about the body and robbed him.

Brown put up a fierce struggle with his assailants, which was at its height as the train pulled through Dover, but as there were two to one, Brown saw the uselessness of resistance and jumped from the train. In jumping he was badly cut about the head, but was able to give the alarm.

Sheriff Laycock, of Dover, telephoned the Maysville police to look out for the men, but as the message came just as the train was going through this city, the police telephoned to the coal docks, and caused the train to be held there until their arrival.

A search of the train revealed about six men, all of whom were released after strict questioning, except two giving their names as L. L. Carroll, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and L. C. Harding, of Birmingham, Ala., who were returned to the city and placed in jail.

Later in the night Deputy Sheriff Laycock arrived from Dover with Brown and the two men were brought to police headquarters for identification. Brown experienced no difficulty in identifying them as the men who had held him up and assaulted him and said that Carroll had cut and robbed him.

The men were again locked up and Brown placed in Haywood Hospital, where his injuries received needed attention. The men will be given a hearing as soon as Brown is able to testify, which will be in about a week or ten days.

Chief Mackey, together with Constable McNamara and several of the force, are responsible for the capture of the men and that they did good work in landing these men who were so near escape goes without saying.

CREDITORS OF FRANK OWENS HARDWARE CO. MEET AND ELECT TRUSTEE.

On Saturday afternoon the creditors of the Frank Owens Hardware Company, bankrupts, met in the office of A. D. Cole, and considered matters of importance pertaining to the administration of the estate, with Hon. Martin Durrett, Referee in Bankruptcy, presiding.

The Equitable Trust Company, of Dover, was elected trustee and it was determined to operate the business for sixty days, at the expiration of which time it will be sold as a whole. Mr. E. H. Wheeler, representing the Equitable Trust Company, will have charge of the store and business during the sixty days.

The schedules show that the bankrupt company has liabilities of $13,000, with assets of $5,000.

COUNTERFEIT FIVE-DOLLAR BILLS.

On Saturday one or two of the spurious counterfeit $5-bills made their appearance in Maysville. One of them was presented for payment at a local store and was detected before it could be passed. It would be well for our merchants to be on their guard against spurious money.

Miss Minnie Crawford left today for Cincinnati to receive private instruction on the Wurlitzer Band Organ, which will be installed in the Pastime theater at a near date. Miss Crawford is recognized as one of Maysville's talented young pianists, and her many friends wish her success.

Col. D. Heehinger was brought home Sunday afternoon from the Jewish Hospital at Cincinnati, where he underwent a surgical operation for the removal of a tumor. His numerous friends will be pleased to learn he is home.

GUN TOTER ARRESTED

Bad Man Placed In Lockup By Officers.

Sunday afternoon Officer Stewart, of the police force, placed Lee Price, colored, of this city, under arrest for carrying concealed weapons. Price was terrifying the neighborhood about Wood street with threats to shoot every one, but quieted down when Officer Stewart appeared on the scene, and professed innocence of the charge against him. This time-worn gag did not work with the officer, who placed him under arrest. Price is well known in police circles as a bad man and would probably have carried out his threat if the police had not arrived in time. When arrested Price was carrying a gun which it is said he stole from John Lightfoot, a negro, of this city. He may be charged also with grand larceny. He will be given a hearing before Judge Whitaker today.

WILLIAM CRAYCRAFT.

William Craycraft, aged 76, died at the home of Mr. Harry Hamilton, of the Washington neighborhood. The funeral will take place today, with interment in Bethel cemetery.

AND THE BUSINESS MAN.

Men are beginning to understand that if escape from political oppression they politics themselves. They have known that there was room and necessity for action, but they have made the waiting for a turn in the tide instead of themselves politically for their own protection.

A business man should be a practical politician. He need not seek to accept it if tendered to him, but he must take sufficient interest in things to see that the proper men are advanced as candidates; he should maintain always his status as a voter, and on election day he should vote without fail, for if he does not the balance of his interest will count as double.

There has been a widespread opinion that politics was an ugly game, one that would contaminate one who attempted to meddle in it, and this opinion has been largely fostered and advanced by the best of our women folks, who bemoan the fact that the men of their families are going to dirty their hands in politics and use their powerful influence to persuade them against it. It must be admitted that there has been some foundation for such opinion, but that very foundation was itself built upon the fact that the good clean men kept aloof and left politics in the hands of men less scrupulous who made it a business for what there was in it for themselves.

It is particularly necessary at this time that the thinking business man should interest himself in politics, for immediately upon the close of the European war foreign industries will take on new life and unless we are prepared to meet the situation with a tariff which will properly protect our industries we shall be faced with a real business crisis which will be felt from one end of the country to the other.

We therefore urge upon every man the necessity of making a careful study of the situation confident that, while he will see the danger, he will see that it is but a threatening one, which need not cause any alarm if he will but remain steady and exercise his power to avert it in November, 1916.

The wisdom of man would be astounding if he ever came to know as much as he thought he knew when he graduated from college.

Experience teaches that it is a whole lot easier for a man to make up his mind than it is for him to keep it made up.

Some people are so busy laying foundations that they never get time to erect the superstructures.

When we contemplate what we do for others we are too apt to forget what others do for us.

A man never gets too sedate to run to a window when he hears a band playing.

There never is an office with a jinx so obvious that nobody will run for it.

Those who think twice before they speak don't have so much to take back.

Hard Work.

A. J. Drexel, who is a volunteer in the automobile service of the British army, wrote in a recent letter to Philadelphia:

"As Kitchener said, or didn't say, to Cobb, our trenches stretch like a gray snake from Switzerland to the sea. And what hard work our soldiers have, let me tell you, digging these trenches!"

"I saw a young soldier in a half-finished trench lay down his shovel the other day and light his pipe."

"Here, what did you lay that shovel down for?" the sergeant said.

"To cool it, sir," said the young soldier."

What Moved 'Em.

A school teacher recently gave his pupils a lecture on patriotism. He pointed out the high motives which moved the territorialists to leave their homes and fight for their country.

The school teacher noticed that one boy did not pay attention to the instruction, and as a test question he asked him:

"What motives took the territorialists to the war?"

The boy was puzzled for a moment; then, remembering the public spend off of the local regiment at the railroad station, he replied:

"Locomotive, sir."—London Tit-Bits.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING IS THE ROAD TO ECONOMY.

Potato Flour.

Because the nutritious part of potatoes is composed largely of starch too large a quantity is not used well in a well planned diet, for too much starch makes all kinds of digestive troubles. However, combined with wheat flour and other ingredients, potatoes add energy producing elements to any diet. Just now when flour and bread are costly this is important, for the price of potatoes is in the reach of every purse.

The Swedish method of making potato flour was recently contributed by Mrs. C. O. Barnard to the Rural New Yorker. She says: "The potatoes are pared, cooked and squeezed through a sieve, or a hard press onto a platter where they lie loosely, allowing air to circulate through and around them. They are then dried in an evaporator or an oven."

"Country Woman" sends another recipe for the same product, but more complicated: "The raw peeled potatoes are grated and then pressed through a sieve and placed in clean wooden tubs and covered with water. When, after several hours, the pulp settles the water is dark colored, and is poured off and renewed until it remains clear. Then the pulp must be drained and broken into bits and dried, when it is to be broken, rolled and sifted. Some of the lumps will be like grains of corn, some look like rice and some as fine as pin heads. Each size is to be put into a bag by itself."

"It is cooked in all sorts of ways; used for thickening stews or as corn starch in gravies and the like, made into porridge and for baking with other flour."

The Department of Agriculture has been experimenting with potato flour and says it may be added to wheat flour in proportions of twenty-five to fifty per cent, but that when more than thirty per cent of potato flour is added the loaves become dark in color and coarse in texture.

American housewives have always added boiled potatoes to bread sponge and found the bread correspondingly wholesome, but it is not usual to add any considerable quantity of the vegetable.

Potato flour has been imported for many years and this seems absurd when we remember that each year we have thousands of bushels remaining in storage. Perhaps the efforts of the Rural New Yorker to interest the public in a more general use of potatoes will open up a new industry that will lower our cost of living. Certainly put up in packages, "ready to use" in potato dumplings, or as a cereal with hot cream and seasoning such "flakes" would find a ready sale if the price was kept as low as it might be.

In the meantime you will find that wheat flour is made more nutritious by following the suggestions of the correspondents above.

SHERLEY MAY ADVANCE IF FITZGERALD RESIGNS.

Washington, May 24.—Representative Swager Sherley may be the chairman of the important Appropriations Committee of the new Congress. He is sure to be selected for that important assignment if rumors regarding the prospective appointment of Representative J. J. Fitzgerald, of New York, to a Federal judgeship prove true. Mr. Sherley has been the ranking majority member of the Appropriations Committee for some time, and it is an open secret that if Mr. Fitzgerald, the chairman, retires as a member of Congress, the Kentuckian will be chosen as his successor.

The wholesale grocer who supplies wrapping paper to 75 per cent of the retail dealers in Niagara Falls and small adjacent towns states that all paper is bought through Canadian jobbing and importing houses, and of the thirty-five or forty tons disposed of annually 20 per cent is American manufacture.

WILSON CONGRATULATES CUBA ON INDEPENDENCE.

Washington, May 24.—President Wilson has enabled to President Menocal, of Cuba, congratulating him on the thirteenth anniversary of Cuban independence. The message said:

"It gives me great pleasure to extend to Your Excellency and to the Cuban people cordial greetings on this anniversary of the independence of Cuba."

The anniversary was celebrated here by a banquet given by Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, the Cuban Minister, whose guests included Secretary Bryan and other members of the President's cabinet, many of the ambassadors and ministers of other countries, Dr. Pablo D. Gasdos, the Cuban Secretary of State, and members of the Cuban delegation to the Pan-American Finance Congress, Maj. Gen. Hugh L. Scott, Chief of Staff of the army, and a number of government officials.

DO IT NOW

Maysville People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.

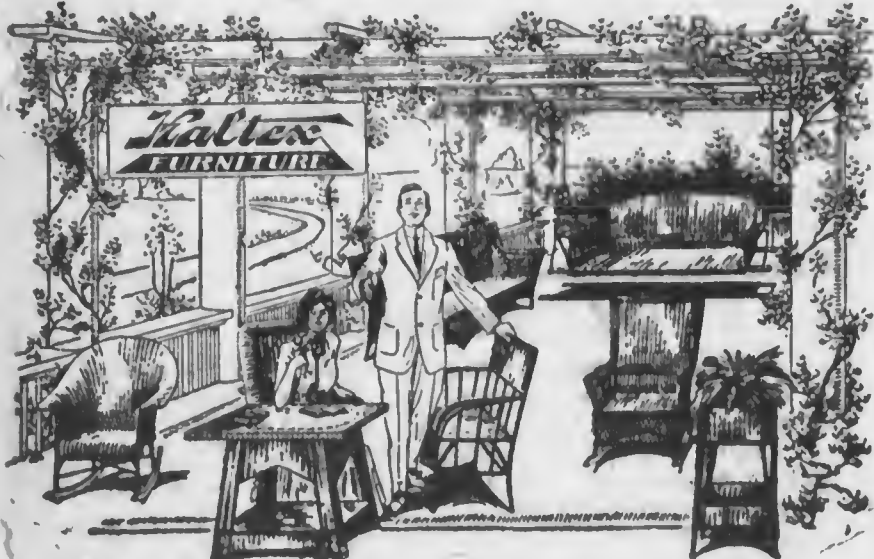

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due largely to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms often give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer may slip gradually into some serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headache, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they act where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home:

"Mrs. S. Neal, 497 W. Second St., Maysville, Ky., says: 'One of my family had a great deal of trouble from his back and kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills made him better and he always praises them.'"

"Mrs. Neal is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Neal recommends—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. THE BED ROOM

To often the bed room is considered as just a place to sleep; a part of the house that does not require any special attention as to lighting because it is seen only by members of the family.

Yet correct lighting arrangement—the installation of harmonious chandeliers, in a manner to give effective illumination—will make this one of the most used rooms of the whole house—a cozy home in itself.

By the use of a simple, but graceful chandelier in the center of the room, and two or more wall brackets of harmonious design, the bedroom is fitted to serve as a study or sewing room.

Then, too, a wall bracket placed at each side of the dresser adds much to the ease and pleasure of dressing. Only when she has a perfect light, by which to make her toilet can Milady be absolutely certain that every little detail is as it should be.

GIRLS OF BULGARIA AID TO ITS PROGRESS.

Washington, May 22.—How much the strength of Bulgaria, whose steady progress during the last forty years of troubled existence has compelled the admiration of onlooking nations, is owing to this nation's sturdy womanhood, is explained for the National Geographical Society by Hester Donaldson Jenkins, an American educator in the Balkans, in a monograph upon "Bulgaria and its Women." Contrasting the Bulgarian girls with the other girls of the Balkans, Miss Jenkins says:

"Among the oriental girls with whom I lived in my nine years' residence in the Near East, none interested me more than the Bulgarians. They are perhaps the least oriental of the eight or more nationalities to be found in the Constantinople College, of which I was a professor. They are fairer and brighter in coloring than the Armenians, Greeks or Persians, rather taller and larger on an average, and have far more energy and less languor than the Turk."

The Bulgarian girls, the writer continues, distinguished themselves from the others by a certain wholesome, out-of-door quality, a sanity which marked them sharply from the fanciful, sentimental and weaker-nerved girls of some of the other nationalities. Their greater sturdiness was sometimes expressed boisterously, and, Miss Jenkins found, the Bulgarian hoyden was much more common than the Turkish hoyden. Of the Bulgarian girl's physical loveliness, she says:

"Bulgarian girls incline to roundness of contour and figure, many of them having round, full face, ripe, rosy mouths and dimples. This effect is heightened by the fashion of wearing the hair in braids wound about the head. One sees plenty of dark hair in Bulgaria, but one also looks with pleasure on warm brown tints, chestnut tresses and occasionally auburn heads. One of the most beautiful girls I ever saw was a Bulgarian, with a glorious mass of copper-colored waves, a clear pale skin, handsomely set gray eyes, a delicate mouth and small white teeth and the height and carriage of a princess."

"The bright cheeks that so many of the Bulgarians have are a pleasant change from the dark or pale skins of the Armenians and Greeks. Their eyes are generally less large and languorous than oriental eyes, looking you squarely in the face, with more frankness and less seduction."

Miss Jenkins gives the following melodious samples of the names of her Bulgarian pupils: Nadezda, Nadelka, Zafinka, Blagoya, Vessalina, Gouka, Zdravka. The last names all end in "off" for the men and "ova" for the women, meaning son of, or daughter of. Thus Magdalena Petrova is Magdalen, daughter of Peter; while Stoiko Petroff is Stoiko, son of Peter. However, now last names are coming to remain permanent in a family.

Bulgarian girls are bright dressers. The village holiday brings out a wonderful array of gaudy costumes, straight and awkward in line, but brilliant in color and decoration, the writer tells. The women's big waists are usually emphasized by huge silver buckles. When, however, a girl is young and pretty, her abundant curly hair, into which is braided bright threads or ribbons, with often a flower in her ear, her bright color heightened by the gay embroideries, and her slender figure, which the straightness of her dress can not spoil, make her an attractive vision. The pleasures of the girls, Miss Jenkins describes:

"A girl in a Bulgarian village is not without her amusements. As in the Bible times all the water for a village must be drawn from one or two wells or springs, and these watering places or fountains are the scenes of much sociability. Hither come all the youths and maidens of the village to loiter. There is coquetting and courting about the fountain and home gatherings in the evening. Marriages spring from mutual attraction and choice, rather than the arrangement of families, as do the American and Turkish alliances."

"There are hnsking bees and quilting bees where the young people meet, but the most popular form of entertainment is the sedanka. Here assemble the young men and women of the village and adjoining farms, grouped about an open fire, singing solos and choruses. The Bulgarian folk dances are danced in a row or circle, the leader generally waving a bright handkerchief and twisting about his line of followers, like a wild game of 'snap the whip.' It suggests health and abounding spirits and good fellowship, without the sensuality that so often marks the oriental dance."

"Occasionally the sedanka ends in a dramatic fashion. Some brawny fellow who has been courting his Darka assiduously will seize her in his arms and carry her to his home. The next day this 'marriage by capture' is given legal and religious sanction by the blessing of the orthodox priest. I once asked Zaratka what would happen if two men wanted the same girl. She replied, simply: 'The stronger would get her.'"

The Bulgarian girls are bright and make eager use of educational advantages. Miss Jenkins says. The college-trained Bulgarian maidens became veritable centers of progress in the towns and villages throughout their country, instilling the hunger for knowledge that in turn is to lead Bulgaria to a great future.

WHY IS AIR BAD?

Experts Prove That Overheated Rooms Without Proper Ventilation Produce Serious Physiological Defects.

Air is bad, when it is overheated, when it contains an excess of moisture and when it is chemically contaminated. This is the conclusion as published by the National Tuberculosis Association of experiment conducted by the New York State Commission on Ventilation. Prof. Winslow has shown that heretofore no one knew exactly why stagnant air is bad for the body. Three kinds of bad air have been determined by their experiments which are steadily going on.

Air in a room heated above 70 degrees may produce in the body an increase in pulse rate and a decreased blood pressure, with lowered mental and physical efficiency. In addition overheating may produce congestion of the mucous membranes of the nose, thus opening the way for colds, sore throats and attacks of various germ diseases.

Prof. Winslow says good ventilation is essential to remove heat produced by human bodies rather than the carbon dioxide burned out by the lungs. Good ventilation is necessary to keep up a good appetite. People who live and work in overheated and under-ventilated rooms are reducing their vitality and rendering themselves an easy prey to tuberculosis, pneumonia and other diseases.

The doors and windows of working and sleeping rooms should be opened frequently even in severest winter weather. Better than open windows in sleeping rooms is an outside sleeping porch.

ANOTHER CUTTING SCRAPE.

Carmel street was the scene of a fight on Sunday night between Joseph Mitchell and Harry Cobb, both of this city. Both young men had been paying marked attention to the same young lady, and Mitchell had succeeded in winning her affections. On Sunday night as Mitchell and the young lady were walking along Carmel street they passed Cobb, who made some remarks which went against Mitchell's grain.
After seeing the young lady home
Mitchell returned and demanded an explanation from Cobb, whose reply, according to Mitchell, was to draw his gun. Mitchell says that he then opened his knife and in self-defense struck at Cobb, cutting him on the cheek and neck, whereupon Cobb left the place and hurried to Police Headquarters, where he swore out a warrant against Mitchell, charging him with cutting with intent to kill.

Officer Stewart immediately went after Mitchell and placed him under arrest. Upon being brought to headquarters, Mitchell swore out a warrant against Cobb, charging him with carrying concealed weapons. Officer Stewart also went in search for Cobb, placed him under arrest and took him before Judge Whitaker at the Judge's home. Cobb was released on bond, his mother signing for him.
